WRECKED LITTLETON'S AUTO.

DRIVER AND WOMEN FRIENDS ON A TRIP-ONE HURT.

Machine Owned by City and Assigned to Borough President Comes to Grief at the Bridge-Chauffeur Locked Up on a Double Charge-Fined $5.

An automobile that cost the city $2,500 and which is set apart for the use of Borough President Martin W. Littleton of Brooklyn, was wrecked at the Manhattan end of the Brooklyn Bridge at 2 o'clock yesterday

In the machine at the time were Theodore Bagley of 295 East 144th street, who runs the machine for Mr. Littleton, another man and two young women. One of the women, who gave the name of Margaret Johnson and said she lives at 738 Fourth avenue, Brooklyn, was injured.

The machine came down Centre street toward the bridge at a fast clip, thirty miles an hour, Policeman Murphy says. Repairs are being made to the bridge approach and there are several heavy iron girders piled up at one side.

The automobile struck the end of one of the girders, rose in the air and came down with a crash. The front axle broke and the wheels spread out. The machine came to a stop as Murphy and several other policemen hastened to it.

Miss Johnson sat in the front seat with Bagley. The big glass window in the wind acreen had been hooked up, but the shock of the collision unfastened it and it came down on the head of the young woman on the front seat.

The first work of the policemen was to get the persons out of the wreck, and they laid hold of Bagley, who was nearest. He resisted, but was finally induced to get out. Then the young woman whose head had been cut was taken into a drug store and an ambulance was called from the Hudson street hospital. The surgeon found it necessary to take a few stitches in her scalp. She objected to the sewing, saying that the operation would leave scars which were likely to mar her beauty. The surgeon went ahead, however.

"I suppose you think you can use a big pull," said the Magistrate to the prisoner. "I am going to show you that a pull does not go in this court. I am going to fine you $5."

not go in this court. I am going to line you $5."

Bagley had to send for a friend in order to pay the fine.

While in the Tombs he said that he had come to Manhattan from Brooklyn on Friday night to get the lamps on the machine repaired. On his way to the Brooklyn Bridge he met a friend named Peter Cullen, who was accompanied by two young women. He invited them to ride and they got in the machine. He didn't know the women, he said.

Borough President Littleton has been in New Hampshire for some time Secretary Heffernan of the president's office said that the wrecked machine was the one used by Mr. Littleton and that Bagley was not authorized to take it out Friday night.

GIRL STRANGLED BY WOMAN? Sheriff Ham's Theory in the Hackett Murder Case.

KENT'S HILL. Me., Aug.19 .- Sheriff Ham reiterated to-day his belief that a woman was the murderer of Miss Hackett, and woman was se the direction of the Hackett home shortly before 8 o'clock on Thursday evening. The woman was not seen again, and Sheriff Ham is endeavoring to get a clue to her

He said to-day that he knew one woman in Kent's Hill who was away from home on Thursday night between the hours of 7 and 10, but he declined to say whether or not this circumstance placed her under his suspicion. When asked why a woman would commit the murder he said that she was undoubtedly actuated by jealousy. Deputy Brown is investigating the story of a supposed man in woman's clothing who was seen by several persons just after dark on the night of the murder. This person was first seen at a point a little more han a mile from the Hackett farm.

Mr. Hawkes, whose house this person passed in the direction of Hackett's, says t was too dark for him to see the face, but his attention was attracted by the size of the figure, a stoop of the shoulders and an ambling gait. The young men drove by in an open wagon, the horse walking as they passed the stroiler. Mr. Hawkes stopped them and remarked on the peculiar stopped them and remarked on the peculiar gait. The men in the wagon said they has noticed it too, but that the woman turned her face from them when they drove past. The three men released from Auburn jail on Thursday and who the police thought might be able to throw some light on the murder were arrested at Livermore Falls this afternoon. They say they never went near Readfield or Kent's Hill. After leaving Auburn with Jones, who is now under arrest at Readfield, the four men tramped to a point on the road between West Leeds and North Leeds, when Jones left them saying he was going to Monmouth Center. The men under arrest say they came di-The men under arrest say they came directly to this town, which they claim to have reached Friday morning.

RUNAWAY AT POLO GROUNDS. Horse Dashes Into Crowd and Knocks Over and Hurts Three Men.

Just as the crowd was leaving the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon a horse owned by Abraham Solomon of 100 St. Nicholas avenue and driven by Harry Hirschfeld of 6 West 116th street took fright as the owner was about to get into the runabout and started down Eighth

The avenue was thronged with men coming from the ball game, and there was wild scramble. Hirschfeld was in the runabout, trying his best to get control of the animal, but the horse kept on, and at 158th street, a block away, dashed into crowd. Joseph Scholer, a carpenter, of Second street and Avenue C; Ernest Reilly, a salesman, of 332 West Twenty-third street, and Samuel Harris, a salesman of 324 East Fifty-third street, were knocked down and bruised.

The animal kept on down the avenue, and at 157th street Edward H. Fish of 324

Fast Fifty-third street made a grab and caught the bridle. He was dragged half a block, but held on, and Hirschfeld, who stayed in the rig, then grabbed the reins. The two were able to bring the horse to a stop. torse to a stop.

LINDSLEY-WILLING INQUEST. Witness Says She Waved Her Apren to

BENNINGTON, Vt., Aug. 19.-With the examination of a dozen or more witnesses who live near the scene of the accident the nquest into the cause of the death of Harris M. Lindsley of New York and Miss Evelyn P. Willing of Chicago, who were killed in their automobile by a railroad train last Monday, has been practically finished. Those who saw the accident testified that the locomotive whistle was blown and the bell rung before the crossing was reached, and that both train and automobile were running at an estimated speed of 35 miles an hour. One witness testified that when she saw the train approaching she tried to warn the occupants of the automobile by shouting and waving her apron, but hey did not see her in time. Farmer John B. Percy said that he saw the party when it passed his house, less than half a mile from the crossing, and that the machine was going at high speed. His son, machine was going at high speed. His son, Raymond Percy, corroborated him. Benjamin F. Brooks testified that he was one of the first at the wreck and that Lindsley was dead when he reached him, but that Miss Willing lived several minutes, and that he attended to her and tried her pulse several times. Several persons who examined the wrecked locomotive testified that the lever had been reversed and the air brakes set. Chauffeur Adamson testified that he heard no whistle.

The body of Mr. Lindsley arrived in Manchester last evening. It was placed in the Mark Skinner Library, which was given to this town by Mrs. Henry J. Willing, beside that of Miss Evelyn Willing. Sergeants Edward Strauss and J. B. Carrigan of the Twelfth Regiment are on guard over the bodies. The funeral services will be held on Monday. Mark Skinner Willing, brother of the dead woman, who was delayed by late trains, will arrive here to-morrow morning.

BULKELEY ON INSURANCE. President of the Ætna Life Is Opposed to Federal Control.

SAILOR FOULED THE COP. And What the Cop Did to the Saller Was

More Than Noticeable. A sailor from the good ship Avalanche wandered into South street early yesterday. He had a rolling gait and carried a coil of rope, which he fastened around a lamppost and commenced to pull, at the same time shouting "Danger aft; heave her to!" Policeman Dooley, who weighs 200 pounds or more, walked toward the sailor just as the hawser parted. The sailor hit Dooley in the stomach and knocked him in a doorway. When the sailor was arraigned as a prisoner in the Essex Market police court yesterday he had two black eyes and a face that looked like a war map. The prisoner described himself as Edward F. Blank and said that the policeman, as near as he could recollect, hit him.

"I didn't do a thing to him," said Dooley.
"I see you didn't," said Magistrate Moss." I will discharge the prisoner with a reprimand." A sailor from the good ship Avalanche

SNAPPED CAMERA AT GUARD.

MANAGER BAIRD OF PULLMAN CAR CO. ARRESTED AT SEASHORE.

Taken to Atlantic City Station in Patrel Wagon Charged With Disorderly Conduct—Case Against Him Quashed and Apologies Made by Officials.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 19.-George W. Baird of Chicago, manager of the Pullman Car Company, was arrested on the beach to-day by Life Guard Casto and sent to police headquarters in the patrol wagon charged with disorderly conduct. Mr. Baird deposited cash for his appearance at court to-night, but the case was quashed in the afternoon

G. Jason Waters, proprietor of the Windsor, and Fire Commissioner Donnelly appeared at the police station and denounced the arrest as outrageous. Mrs. Baird then produced a bunch of railroad passes beonging to her husband for identification. Dr. Walt P. Conaway, who is Mr. Baird's physician, told the officials that Mr. Baird had just gotten over an illness and was still in a weak condition. Beach Surgeon Beck, as head of the guards, apologised for the guard's hasty action and asked that the charge be withdrawn.

Mr. Baird consulted Dr. Conaway and the physician advised him to drop the matter, as the worriment would not be beneficial to his present condition. Captain of Police Maxwell told Mr. Baird that he would be only too glad to refund the money deposited. The case was then dropped, with due apology.

Mrs. Baird and a woman nurse removed buoy from a chair and sat on the chair to have a picture taken. The guard, it is alleged, roughly commanded the women to replace the buoy where it belonged. After repeated commands by the guard, Mr. Baird asked the guard what he wanted the women to do. Mr. Baird then put the buoy on the chair.

As he walked away Mr. Baird pointed his camera at the guard and snapped it, saying that he would enter a complaint against the guard and desired the picture for identification. This aroused the ire of the guard, and the arrest followed. It was said that the guard was suspended pending a heartioned, but Is Caught and Locked Up. Madison, N. J., Aug. 19.-Policeman Ryan had his attention called this morning to a shifty stranger who was endeavoring to sell jewelry. Apparently the jewelry was of considerable value but it was being offered for sale at remarkably low prices. The policeman asked the stranger how he came by it, was dissatisfied with the answer and placed the pedler under arrest.

On their way to the station the prisoner made a sudden dash for liberty. Ryan took after him and ran him down in short order. As he came up with him the stranger pulled a knife and struck at him. Ryan parried the blow, grappled with his man and subdued him. The prisoner thereafter made an unsuc-

The prisoner thereafter made an unsuccessful effort to throw away the jewelry. This consisted of six pearl rings, a necklace set with fifty pearls, gold watch, gold compass, locket with initials "A. L. S.," several breast pins and a crystal clock. All these he carried in a pink bag.

In a coat pocket he had an envelope from the order department of Wanamaker's New York store. On it were these addresses: Lizzie Conroy, 178 East Sixty-eighth street; Claire Beronen and Mary McLaine, 141 East Thirty-second street, and Nellie Halloran, 1540 Sixth avenue.

The prisoner said he was John Baldwin of Allegheny City. Pa. He is 5 feet 6 inches tall, has sandy hair and a light complexion, and wears black clothes and a straw hat. Capt. Cooney of the police force communicated with the police of various cities to ascertain if his prisoner was wanted by any of them.

HAY FIRE A FINE SPECTACLE. Two Barge Loads Burn and Draw a Big Crowd of Sightseers.

Two hay barges, the John Nielson and the William K. Vanderbilt of the Starin Transportation Company, caught fire while lying alongside the pier at the foot of Thirty-fifth street and the North River last night and burned to the water's edge. Both barges were loaded with hay, and the flames gained great headway before the arrival of the fireboats and engines.

The entire river front in the district of the fire was lighted up and the glare of the flames was visible far inland. A rumor of a big pier fire sent most of the inhabi-tants of the Tenderloin scurrying to the spot and the reserves of three precincts were called out to keep the sightseers in Nine years ago, however, my health began to fail, and continued to grow worse, steadily, in spite of doctor's prescriptions, frequent changes of residence and everything I could do. During all this time my appetite continued good, only the more I ate the more I wanted to eat-I was always hungry. The first symptoms of my breakdown were a distressing nervousness and a loss of flesh. The nervousness grew so bad that finally it amounted to actual prostration. Then came stomach troubles, which were very painful, constipation, which brought on piles, dyspepsia and severe nervous headaches. The doctors seemed powerless to help me, said I was overworked, and at last urged me to give up teaching, if I wished to save my life.
